4 More Yanks Are Killed In Viet Nam

U.S. Makes Plans For Big Boost in Manpower There

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Communist guerrillas killed four American servicemen today as the U.S. government made plans for a big boost in its military manpower in South Viet Nam.

One of the dead was an Army major, shot to death by a Viet Cong platoon in broad daylight in the middle of a Roman Catholic village 10 miles northwest of Saigon.

Two Army officers and an Air Force man were killed by a mine set off under their jeep as they drove in a convoy of five vehicles on a road 21 miles south of Saigon.

The toll of Americans killed in action in this Communist-menaced nation since December 1961 rose to 163.

Up to 3,000 more American military advisers and training personnel may be sent to swell the U.S. force of about 16,240 already in the country. No extension of the Americans' limited combat role was in prospect, however.

The South Vietnamese government announced the new buildup Monday after a conference between Premier Nguyen Khanh and U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor.

A U.S. spokesman said the arrival of personnel would be gradual, and the number now planned might be changed as circumstances developed.

"This increase in U.S. aid as well as other aid from friendly countries granted at the request of the Vietnamese government should be construed as a warning to the Communists in Hanoi (the capital of North Viet Nam)," Khanh's government said.

The communiqué said U.S. aid would be increased in the (Continued on Page Two)

Senators Shun Self-Examination

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has turned down proposed new rules for disclosure of the outside financial interests of its members and top employees.

Instead, it has thrown its support to setting up a 17-member commission to conduct a two-year study of measures to insure high ethical standards among all federal officials.

Establishment of the study commission may come up for a final vote today, although a bill to limit meat imports may be given priority.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, expressing surprise over the turn of events in the Senate Monday night, indicated he wanted to explore the situation before making a decision.

The financial disclosure resolutions that went down to defeat were the outgrowth of the Senate Rules Committee's investigation of the fortune Bobby Baker accumulated while secretary of the Senate's Democratic majority.

Baker resigned under fire last Oct. 7. In a report to the Senate

earlier this month the committee said he had been "guilty of many gross improprieties."

The committee recommended a new Senate rule requiring senators and all Senate employees earning over $10,000 a year to disclose annually their major outside financial interests—but not the value of their holdings nor the income derived from them.

But Monday night the Senate voted 48 to 39 to send this proposal back to the committee with instructions that it report out forthwith a substitute measure providing for establishment of a 17-member commission on ethics in the federal government.

The Senate also defeated 62 to 25 a far more sweeping disclosure rule than the Rules Committee proposal. It was offered by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa.

It voted 59 to 27 against a proposal by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., to require senators and other top Senate employees to submit copies of their federal income tax return and also of their financial assets to a new watchdog committee.

Spacecraft Designed To Relay Photos

Effort Is 13th By U.S. To Help Future Astronauts

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Ranger 7 spacecraft rocketed toward the moon today with the mission of taking several thousand closeup photographs of areas where American astronauts may land in 1969.

An Atlas-Agena rocket blasted into the sky at 11:50 a.m. (EST) to start the spidery spacecraft on a planned quarter-million-mile journey which hopefully will end six years of frustration for U. S. moon shots.

The great rocket, 104 feet tall and weighing 138 tons, spouted a torrent of red-orange flame and sent a thunderous roar rolling across Cape Kennedy as it barreled away from its launch pad.

If all goes well, the spacecraft will reach the moon about 8 a.m. (EST) Friday and before crashing will transmit its pictures.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced eight minutes after launching that the Atlas first stage apparently had performed as planned (Continued on Page Two)

Auto Accidents Said Deliberate

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—A Kansas City man has collected about $10,000 insurance by deliberately causing more than 35 automobile accidents in four years, a prosecutor said.

Joseph Lewis Appleby, 40, pleaded guilty in Circuit Court Monday to a grand jury indictment of collecting on a false injury claim.

Donald L. Mason, assistant prosecutor, said the state had 42 witnesses ready to testify that Appleby operated in this manner:

Driving an old car, Appleby would slam on the brakes suddenly so that his car was rammed from the rear by a truck. Then he would tell the insurance adjuster his neck and back hurt and he was going to see a doctor. He usually settled for about $100 or $200 cash.

President To Visit In Columbus Sept. 19

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — President Johnson's appearance at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner has been rescheduled for Saturday, Sept. 19, Democratic state headquarters said today. It is planned for the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

A spokesman said Mrs. Johnson has been invited to address the State Democratic Women's Federation, but no word has been received from the White House.

John Hamrick Memorial Fund Passes $1,500

The John Hamrick Youth Memorial Fund passed the $1,500 mark today it was reported during a breakfast meeting of the directors of the fund.

Created following the death of the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hamrick, the fund is to be used for youth activities in which Pickaway County youngsters, boys and girls alike, participate.

The group today decided to make the fund a perpetual program, investing the monies donated and using the interest in some manner for county youths.

A committee composed of Don Archer, Pickaway District SCS Technician and 4H Soil Conservation Club adviser, Robert Wood, Youth Baseball Program treasurer and Robert Wavering, St. Josephs School activities, was appointed to meet with Hamrick to lay the basic ground rules for the operation fund.

ATTORNEYS J. W. Adkins Jr. and Allan Berger were appointed to check into the legal aspects of the operation of the fund.

Earl Palm, chairman of the youth fund committee, pointed out that although the initial income available from investing the monies already donated would be small, the principal would in all probability grow through further donations.

John Hamrick died June 7 from injuries suffered when his bicycle collided with a car at Pickaway St. and Northridge Road.

The fund was established in his name the following day with the blessings of the Hamrick family.

12th Scorchers Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The mercury rose into the 90s for the 11th straight day over the greater part of Ohio Monday. And it appears the 12th day of sweltering heat will be recorded.

The Monitor said its survey gives Goldwater the lead in Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Maine, Alabama, Florida, North Carolina, Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana, Nebraska and Kansas.

It said the assessment "reflects the views of seasoned reporters together with quotes from professionals in both Republican and Democratic camps."

The Monitor also said: "The assessments were made after the outbreak of racial violence in New York's Harlem but probably too soon to measure possible backlash effects among white voters."

In addition to the 13 states where Goldwater was given the edge there are 16 states "where his position appears to be strong to fairly strong."

Two Youngsters Accidentally Hit By Father's Auto

Two youthful bicycle riders were struck by a car driven by their father at dusk yesterday in the village of Ringgold.

Admitted to Children's Hospital, Columbus, were James R. Wolfe, 8, and his brother, Michael, 6. They were reported in "fair" condition today by hospital authorities.

James suffered a multiple fracture of the leg and abrasions. Michael received a mild skull fracture in addition to a fractured leg and abrasions.

The youngsters were riding double on the bicycle.

HARRY E. WOLFE, 43, Ringgold, told Pickaway County Sheriff Walton W. Spangler the two youngsters had gone to the general store in the village.

Wolfe said he had just started in search of them. The accident was less than 100 yards from their home.

Barry Drives For Unity Within GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, seeking to strengthen the GOP ticket in the coming campaign, is launching a drive for top-to-bottom party unity.

The Arizona senator announced Monday night a series of talks with GOP congressional leaders, members of the House and Senate, governors and other party chieftains "in the interests of the campaign, of all Republican candidates' campaigns and of party unity."

Goldwater confers Wednesday with the Senate-House Republican Leadership Conference to talk over legislation facing Congress and discuss campaign plans.

The senator said he and vice presidential nominee William E. Miller of New York are inviting all the Republican members of both branches to Capitol Hill breakfast meetings Aug. 6 and 7.

Shortly after those meetings, Goldwater said, he hopes to meet with Republican leaders including former president Dwight D. Eisenhower and former vice president Richard M. Nixon.

Stabbed five times, Dianne Pollitt, of Lakewood, was listed in fair condition in Lakewood Hospital after the incident Monday. She was wounded in the chest, back, abdomen and right arm.

Police were holding Danny L. Thompson of Marion. Homicide detectives said Thompson signed a statement that he stabbed the girl with a 4½ inch hunting knife during an argument.

Castro Shakes Fist at U.S.

Gitmo 'Murder' Brings Tirade

SANTIAGO, Cuba (AP)—Fidel Castro launched a new attack at the United States Monday night, declaring that Cuba will "answer shot for shot" if "another man is murdered" by U.S. Marines at the Guantanamo naval base.

The Cuban prime minister held a 3½-hour news conference for 33 American newsmen visiting Cuba at his invitation and 40 other foreign newsmen who came to Santiago for the celebration of his 26th of July revolutionary movement.

Castro again rejected the U.S. denial of his charge that U.S. Marines killed a Cuban sentry at the Guantanamo border two weeks ago.

"What is important is that we believe and know that this happened, and the Soviet Union also knows it," Castro said.

"If another of our men is murdered, we will not have another alternative but to answer shot for shot independently of what the American government believes or not."

"The Soviet Union knows if we are forced to take measures we would not be looking for war."

Castro made clear that he would not give up his ties with the Soviet Union to improve relations with the United States.

"The United States tries to maintain a cold war with us and at the same time wants to improve relations with the Soviet Union," he said.

"That objective will not be accomplished. Cuba will not tolerate being separated from the Socialist bloc."

Castro dwelt at length, however, on the chance of improving relations with the United States.

"We have no resentment against the American people," he said. "It would be stupidity not to be willing to discuss our differences."

"If there is willingness, a way will be found. We want to discuss, but are not in any hurry, and we are prepared not to have diplomatic and commercial relations with the United States for the next 20 years."

Rather Absurd Drama Is Played In Ocean Surf

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Everyone was swimming around and having a fine time at La Jolla Shores Sunday, when suddenly a child yelled, "Daddy, there's an alligator in the ocean!"

Sure enough — a 4½-foot alligator dogpaddled into view and women and children ran shrieking from the surf.

A swimmer plunged in, then emerged holding the beast gingerly by its tail and one foot.

A man in swim trunks and straw hat stepped from the gathering crowd and announced: "That's my alligator."

George A. Trellies, 48, of San Diego slipped a nylon leash over his pet's neck, boarded a rubber raft and began paddling off to sea, the alligator paddling faithfully behind.

Hope Fades For Men in French Mine

CHAMPAGNOLE, France (AP)—Hope began to fade today for 14 men entombed for almost 24 hours in a limestone mine in the Jura Mountains of eastern France.

A drill pipe sunk through 128 feet of mud and rock broke through into an intact part of the mine. Rescuers lowered a highly sensitive listening device down the 6-inch tube but heard only the sound of dripping water and falling stones.

Officials said the absence of human sounds was "very disturbing." They said the men would have come to the point where the pipe pierced the mine roof if they were alive and well.

One official said it was possible that the area of the mine under the drill pipe was cut off from where the men were sheltered. But in that case the rescuers face new and formidable difficulties when they break through into the mine.

The drillers had worked through the night at one spot without making a breakthrough. Then they moved the rig several yards up the hill and started again.

The men had been entombed within the 30-mile labyrinth more than 12 hours when sensitive special equipment, flown in by helicopter, caught what seemed to be faint tapping.

Daughter Like Mom, Has Her 14th Child

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Harry W. Weber went home from St. Joseph's Hospital Monday with her 14th child, Jacqueline.

Mrs. Weber's mother, Mrs. Parker A. Talley, also had 14 children. All of them were born at St. Joseph's, too.

"One difference, though," Mrs. Weber, 36, said, "I've had mine faster. We both had our first child when we were 20, and she was 43 when she had her 14th."

As horse traders, they are flops. Liddie Bell Baker, 9, and Janie Lavelle Musick, 7, left their homes about 11 a.m. Monday leading Liddie Bell's 4-month-old Shetland pony.

Before the girls were found by police in late afternoon they had sold the pony for $1, and spent 10 cents of it for potato chips.

Police are looking for the pony and the man who bought it.

Apportioning Order Given New York

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal court has ordered the Republican-controlled New York Legislature to pass a reapportionment measure by next April 1.

The special three-judge court directed Monday that senators and assemblymen be elected Nov. 3 on the basis of present legislative districts. It ruled, however, that those elected in November can serve only one year instead of the normal two-year terms.

The unanimous decision set the first timetable for putting into effect the U.S. Supreme Court decision of June 15, which ordered that seats in the legislature be reapportioned to represent the population more fairly.

The Supreme Court held that the state's apportionment formula was unconstitutional.

Democrats had asked the federal court here to order immediate redistricting, which would have affected the elections this November. Some Republicans leaders had hoped to delay reapportionment for two years.

The ruling was praised by spokesmen for both the Republicans, who are expected to lose legislative seats through reapportionment, and the Democrats, who are expected to gain.

Beating Injuries Fatal to Boy; Man Faces New Charge

JACKSON, Ohio (AP) — A three-year-old Jackson County boy died in a Gallipolis hospital early today of injuries suffered in a beating at his home 10 days ago.

Authorities said the grand jury which completed its work a week ago will be recalled to consider a homicide charge against Minor David Leach, 29, of Wellston.

Leach was indicted last week on an aggravated assault charge in the beating of Bernard Blanchard. The youngster remained in a coma until his death.

The beating occurred at the home of the child's mother, Mrs. Joyce Wells. Sheriff John Evans said Leach, who had been staying at Mrs. Wells' home, was accused of slapping the boy, throwing him to the floor, and kicking him.

Girls Prove Flops As Horse Traders

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Two girls who ran away from home "just because" have learned one thing from their experience:

Governor Deplores Rochester Struggle

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Violence-ridden Rochester, described by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller as a victim of extremism, struggled today to regain a semblance of normalcy from a bloody weekend of race rioting.

With its uneasy peace being enforced by hundreds of helmeted city and state police, the city was paid a surprise visit Monday by the governor.

Rockefeller expressed "shock and great sadness" over what he saw during a tour of the riot-torn Negro sections.

Declaring that the racial violence was clear evidence of extremism that cannot be justified, Rockefeller said he found no evidence of outside agitators, however.

He said he felt that there was no connection with the race violence which ripped through New York's Harlem and a Negro area of Brooklyn.

The relative quiet in Rochester prompted hopes that some solution could be found to curb the simmering unrest before the week was out.

Worried officials said privately they feared another bloody weekend might erupt when factories closed and thousands of workers were released for their normal days off.

Rochester's racial strife—fomented by thousands of Negroes and some whites—left a tragic toll of four dead, at least 350 injured and millions of dollars in property damage.

Combat-ready National Guardsmen, 1,500 strong, stood by prepared to wield bayonets and rifle butts, if necessary, to preserve law and order.

Authorities kept an emergency nighttime curfew clamped on the city in only slightly modified form. Any citizen found on the streets without justifiable reason between 8:30 p.m. and 6 a.m. was subject to arrest.

Senators Shun Self-Examination

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has turned down proposed new rules for disclosure of the outside financial interests of its members and top employees.

Instead, it has thrown its support to setting up a 17-member commission to conduct a two-year study of measures to insure high ethical standards among all federal officials.

Establishment of the study commission may come up for a final vote today, although a bill to limit meat imports may be given priority.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, expressing surprise over the turn of events in the Senate Monday night, indicated he wanted to explore the situation before making a decision.

The financial disclosure resolutions that went down to defeat were the outgrowth of the Senate Rules Committee's investigation of the fortune Bobby Baker accumulated while secretary of the Senate's Democratic majority.

Baker resigned under fire last Oct. 7. In a report to the Senate

earlier this month the committee said he had been "guilty of many gross improprieties."

The committee recommended a new Senate rule requiring senators and all Senate employees earning over $10,000 a year to disclose annually their major outside financial interests—but not the value of their holdings nor the income derived from them.

But Monday night the Senate voted 48 to 39 to send this proposal back to the committee with instructions that it report out forthwith a substitute measure providing for establishment of a 17-member commission on ethics in the federal government.

The Senate also defeated 62 to 25 a far more sweeping disclosure rule than the Rules Committee proposal. It was offered by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa.

It voted 59 to 27 against a proposal by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., to require senators and other top Senate employees to submit copies of their federal income tax return and also of their financial assets to a new watchdog committee.

Wolfe said he had just started in search of them. The accident was less than 100 yards from their home.

He had told his wife since there was no light on the DEPUTY GENE KERNS aided with the investigation. No charges were filed by the sheriff's office.

Besides the injured boys, the Wolfe's have three other children. They are Donna, 14, Harry, 12 and Francis, 4.

Sheriff Spangler said today that bicycle riders have become a big problem in the county. He pointed out that another accident involving a young boy on a bike and a halted car was investigated in Derby.

John Hamrick Youth Memorial Fund passed the $1,500 mark today it was reported during a breakfast meeting of the directors of the fund.

Created following the death of the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hamrick, the fund is to be used for youth activities in which Pickaway County youngsters, boys and girls alike, participate.

The group today decided to make the fund a perpetual program, investing the monies donated and using the interest in some manner for county youths.

A committee composed of Don Archer, Pickaway District SCS Technician and 4-H Soil Conservation Club adviser, Robert Wood, Youth Baseball Program treasurer and Robert Waverling, St. Joseph's School activities, was appointed to meet with Hamrick to lay the basic ground rules for the operation fund.

ATTORNEYS J. W. Adkins Jr. and Allan Berger were appointed to check into the legal aspects of the operation of the fund.

Earl Palm, chairman of the youth fund committee, pointed out that although the initial income available from investing the monies already donated would be small, the principal would in all probability grow through further donations.

John Hamrick died June 7 from injuries suffered when his bicycle collided with a car at Pickaway St. and Northridge Road.

The fund was established in his name the following day with the blessings of the Hamrick family.

Johnson signed July 2. Among the 21 were six senators whose seats are at stake this year. These include Virginia's Byrd, and Sens. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, Albert Gore of Tennessee, Spessard L. Holland of Florida, John Stennis of Mississippi and Herbert S. Walters of Tennessee.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., who is not running this year, said he is sticking to his intention not to attend the Democratic convention at Atlantic City, N.J., next month. Ellender said that when his name was listed tentatively as a Louisiana delegate, he ordered it scratched.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who is not up for election, said in a separate interview he hadn't been asked to speak for the national ticket and doesn't expect to receive any such request.

In the estimate of many politicians, Johnson's popularity in the South has slumped materially since he put on pressure for passage of the civil rights bill and the Republicans named as their presidential nominee Sen. Barry Goldwater, who voted against the measure.

13 Indicted In Big Postal Theft Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Thirteen men were indicted today in what federal authorities termed the largest post-office burglary gang operation in the nation's history.

They were accused specifically of taking approximately $880,000 worth of stamps and money orders in a series of New Jersey post-office burglaries between Jan. 12 and June 13.

Spacecraft

(Continued from Page 1) during the first five minutes of flight, and that the Agena second stage had ignited and gone into a so-called "parking orbit" 120 miles above the earth.

The flight plan called for a 17-minute coasting phase by the 22-foot-long Agena until the rocket was in the precise position over the South Atlantic to restart its engine to put Ranger 7 on the proper route to the moon.

The upper stage engine was to reignite for a short burst to kick the spacecraft free at about 24,800 miles an hour.

The control center reported within the first half hour that tracking data showed that the Agena had fired a second time as planned, and that the flight appeared to be progressing normally.

The shot was postponed Monday when static-like noise developed in a ground transmitter used to send radio commands to the guidance system after the rocket is airborne. The problem was corrected.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration counted on Ranger 7 to end six years of disappointment during which the United States has failed on 12 straight moon shots.

The failures have seriously hampered gathering information to support the Apollo man-to-the-moon project, which aims at a manned lunar landing late in this decade.

Ranger 7 is to streak 28,522 miles to the moon in 68½ hours and crash-land on the surface Friday morning. As the 806-pound craft approaches the moon, its six television cameras are to take and transmit more than 4,000 closeup pictures.

The flight control center at Goldstone, Calif., hoped to maneuver Hanger 7 to an area west of the moon's center where lighting conditions are most favorable for photography. A me target was the huge Mare brium, the Sea of Showers.

Apollo planners want pictures of the maria because they appear to be flat and thus are possible astronaut landing areas.

Examination of the photos may determine whether the maria are dust bowls, solid surfaces or something else. The information is needed for designing the landing gear on the Apollo moonship.

The cameras were geared to take pictures from an altitude of 120 miles to the moment before impact.

Significant Court Decree Aids Negroes

ATLANTA (AP) — A federal district judge, in an opinion of possible far-reaching significance, has enjoined the state of Georgia from racial discrimination in the sale, lease or other disposal of property of state-owned Jekyll Island.

The injunction, issued Monday by Judge Frank A. Hooper, makes it possible for Negroes to lease homesites on the island, once a retreat for some of the nation's wealthiest families.

Ben W. Fortson Jr., chairman of the Jekyll Island Authority, said about 400 homesites are available now for lease.

The normal homesite lease is 40 years, Fortson said, with 10-year renewal periods after that. The court injunction does not cover those presently holding leases from the state, but only concerns future disposals of property.

Mrs. Constance Baker Motley of New York, attorney for the Savannah Negroes who sought the injunction, described the order as unprecedented.

"I don't recall any similar decision. This could set an important precedent," she said.

Commission Okays Request To Vacate Township Road

A resolution to vacate a road in Muhlentz Twp. was approved yesterday by the Board of County Commissioners.

The legislative action pertains to Seisel Road (No. 203). According to the resolution, the road has been abandoned and not open for public use for many years.

A petition requesting the official closing was submitted by I. S. Carpenter who owns all land abutting the roadway. The Commission indicated the land comprising the road will revert to Carpenter.

Seisel Road is near the intersection of Circleville - London Northern and Darbyville - Williamsport Roads. It extends northeastward for a short distance and deadends at Darby Creek.

MEMBERS of the Commission pointed out that they did not approve an actual plat of the proposed Gorsuch Meadowview Addition as was reported last week. They said they merely okayed the 5.71 acres that falls within the county.

The solons said they based their approval on 1.04 acres listed as reserve area A, 2.97 acres as reserve area B and 1.7 acres that comprises part of a street to be known as Meadow Drive.

In other business, the Commissioners discussed electrical wiring in the Courthouse. They indicated that improvements may be necessary in order to prevent overloading.

A motion was approved to close the Courthouse next Wednesday afternoon. This will be done to allow employees to attend the County Fair which will be in progress.

Also approved was a motion to employ Wayne T. Hickey to work as a Courthouse janitor during the vacation period of a regular custodian.

13 Indicted In Big Postal Theft Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Thirteen men were indicted today in what federal authorities termed the largest post-office burglary operation in the nation's history.

They were accused specifically of taking approximately $680,000 worth of stamps and money orders in a series of New Jersey post-office burglaries between Jan. 12 and June 13.

However, Asst. U.S. Atty. Martin R. Pollner, who presented the case to a federal grand jury in Brooklyn, said he believed the gang actually was responsible for about a million dollars worth of burglaries at various offices.

Pollner said the gang was responsible for the largest money order burglary in postoffice history, money orders with a maximum value of $592,920 taken from the office of Keyport, N.J., on March 12.

He also said the gang made off with the largest amount of stamps ever taken in a post-office burglary, $77,000 worth at the office in Fairview, N.J., on Jan. 12.

CFD Gets Rash of Calls

A rash of fires and other alarms that started during the weekend continued to keep Circleville Firemen busy today. The latest incident came at 10:25 a. m. today when a unit hastened to the Pickaway Grain Co. where sparks had ignited a trailer loaded with corn cobs. No loss was reported.

Firemen were summoned twice yesterday. The first was at 8:20 p. m. when a motor blazed at the laundramat on W. Main St.

Five minutes later a unit was called to E. Main St. where a car was leaking gasoline. Firemen washed the fuel away. No loss was reported on either of the Monday alarms.

At 3:30 p. m. Sunday, the firefighters battled a shed fire at Starkey Drive and Lowery Lane. The building, valued at $50, was destroyed.

Firemen said the blaze apparently was caused by youngsters smoking cigarettes inside the shed. George Lowery owned the building.

A single call on Saturday, at about 6:30 p. m., resulted in the loss of a ballast in a light at Greenlee's Market, 215 W. Mill St. Loss was estimated at $7.50.

during the first five minutes of flight, and that the Agena second stage had ignited and gone into a so-called "parking orbit" 120 miles above the earth.

The flight plan called for a 17-minute coasting phase by the 22-foot-long Agena until the rocket was in the precise position over the South Atlantic to restart its engine to put Ranger 7 on the proper route to the moon.

The upper stage engine was to reignite for a short burst to kick the spacecraft free at about 24,800 miles an hour.

The control center reported within the first half hour that tracking data showed that the Agena had fired a second time as planned, and that the flight appeared to be progressing normally.

The shot was postponed Monday when static-like noise developed in a ground transmitter used to send radio commands to the guidance system after the rocket is airborne. The problem was corrected.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration counted on Ranger 7 to end six years of disappointment during which the United States has failed on 12 straight moon shots.

The failures have seriously hampered gathering information to support the Apollo man-to-moon project, which aims at a manned lunar landing late in this decade.

Ranger 7 is to streak 28,522 miles to the moon in 68½ hours and crash-land on the surface Friday morning. As the 806-pound craft approaches the moon, its six television cameras are to take and transmit more than 4,000 closeup pictures.

The flight control center at Goldstone, Calif., hoped to maneuver Ranger 7 to an area west of the moon's center where lighting conditions are most favorable for photography. A target was the huge Mare brian, the Sea of Showers.

Apollo planners want pictures of the maria because they appear to be flat and thus are possible astronaut landing areas.

Examination of the photos may determine whether the maria are dust bowls, solid surfaces or something else. The information is needed for designing the landing gear on the Apollo moonship.

The cameras were geared to take pictures from an altitude of 120 miles to the moment before impact.

Liquor for Minors Frowned on by Judge

Giving intoxicants to a minor drew a fine and jail sentence yesterday in Circleville Municipal Court for an area adult.

Joe Thompson, 22, Route 1, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to six months in jail by Judge Sterling M. Lamb on the charge of furnishing intoxicating liquor to a minor. Judge Lamb suspended three months of the jail sentence and placed Thompson on probation for three years.

Jay is the bright-faced lad who starred for four years as "Dennis the Menace" in the popular television series. Lancaster Boy's Trial Scheduled LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—John L. Carder, of Lancaster, has been found sane and able to stand trial in the slaying of a Lancaster grocery operator.

Common Pleas Court Judge Merlin C. Parent made the ruling at a sanity hearing for the 16-year-old youth. Carder is charged with hacking to death 42-year-old Mrs. Banetta Brucker on April 2.

At a preliminary hearing in May, Carder entered a plea of innocent by reason of insanity and self defense.

Judge Parent set the youth's trial for Aug. 17.

6,500 Church Delegates To Be Fed Daily

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Twelve Columbus host congregations of the Jehovah's Witnesses drew up a gigantic grocery list today in preparation for a four-day district convention which opens Thursday.

It will be held in Jet Stadium, Columbus' International League baseball park, where Billy Graham recently held his crusade meetings.

Delegates will attend from Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky and western Pennsylvania, with perhaps as many as 18,000 on hand Sunday.

Plans are being made to serve three meals a day for as many as 6,500. Kitchen tents will be erected on the stadium parking lot, and the grocery list includes 10,000 pounds of beef, 2,000 loaves of bread, 2,500 pies, 10,000 hot dogs and 3,000 dozen ice cream bars.

Two-hundred flowering plants and live trees will be set up temporarily in the infield as a garden from which speakers will talk. Officials said the convention will be financed with voluntary contributions.

Between 200 and 300 persons will be baptized Friday at 9:30 a.m. EST at the Sunshine Park Recreation Center swimming pool, officials said.

Minimum Wage Panel To Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A nine-member board will begin deliberations soon on whether present minimum wages are adequate for women and minors working in places offering food or lodging.

Employe groups petitioned the State Industrial Department seven months ago for such a study. Mandatory minimums now are 55 cents an hour for waiters, bellboys and other service employes who frequently get tips, and 75 cents for non-service workers such as cooks.

Mrs. Helen W. Evans, assistant department director, said a statewide survey has been made and analyzed and will be printed by mid-August. She said department Director William O. Walker is contacting three persons from industry, three from labor groups and three from the public to make up the board.

Tough Ohio Rights Law Is Working OK

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The chances are 1 to 3 that the average civil rights complaint in Ohio will stop discrimination.

At least that's the way things have gone the first five years for the Ohio Civil Rights Commission, which, most experts agree, operates under a law much tougher than the new federal act.

Records from the commission, which celebrates its fifth birthday Wednesday, also show that almost half of the complaints are dropped because the commission considers them invalid.

Of those investigated, about half end up in what the commission terms "successful negotiation."

Ohio's law provides for no penalty other than contempt of court but the law can be pesky for violators before the case reaches that stage.

"A person cannot simply point the finger at somebody—without good reason," says Jerry Belenker, 34, staff counsel for the commission.

On the other hand, the statutes say that besides persons claiming to be aggrieved, anyone "having knowledge of alleged discrimination" can bring action.

For example, a witness who sees a restaurant refuse service to a Negro may start action by filing an affidavit and offering some evidence of the violation.

The Ohio law banning discrimination in employment areas has been on the books since the start of the commission in 1959. In 1961, the General Assembly added public accommodations. A bill for a fair housing bill died without a floor vote in 1963.

How does the law work? Once a complaint seems to have validity, Belenker says, the alleged violator is notified. "We get fine cooperation at this stage in most cases," he adds.

If not, the commission can subpoena information.

The commission attempts to get the violator to sign an agreement or joint statement saying the discrimination will stop and damages, if any, will be rectified. Up to this stage, everything is voluntary.

In its five years, the commission has negotiated 759 agreements in the 1,476 cases they proceeded on from 2,763 complaints.

If the alleged violator refuses to sign an agreement, then the commission orders a hearing.

The most famous of these hearings was the one involving Louis Genger, the Yellow Springs barber who refused to cut a Negro's hair because, he said, he didn't know how.

The commission ordered Genger to cut the hair and he appealed the case into the courts.

Such an order—to cease and desist—from the commission has been issued eight times in five years. Two others are pending.

If on appeal, the violator loses, he is liable for contempt of court.

"We cannot punish anybody," said Belenker.

The commission has 11 on its professional staff, plus clerical help. It has offices in Columbus, Cincinnati, Cleveland and Toledo.

Arthur L. Peterson of Delaware is commission chairman and Ellis L. Ross is the executive director at commission headquarters in Columbus.

The other members, appointed by the governor, are Clingan Jackson, William Green Jr., and Charles G. Bishop, all of Youngstown, and Roosevelt S. Dickey of Cleveland.

Teleprompter Oratory

In the glare of the TV floodlights the eyes of the convention speaker seem to be looking the viewer right in the eye — and then shift to his chin or necktie. Up and down the gaze flutters. After hours of this strange behavior, the viewer finds his own interest fluttering.

What sort of public speaking is this? Why does the fellow come at one with man-to-man, eye-to-eye deliver for the first part of a sentence but drop his glance at the very time he is going into his clincher?

It is not that he suddenly loses confidence in himself as a speaker, or is half ashamed of what he is saying. He's really in there pitching. What he is doing is taking his stuff off the teleprompter.

Purely Relative

The tall ship review — including most of the big sailing vessels still left in the world — to which New York and New Jersey have just been treated was a sight to gladden the eye and stir the imagination.

The contrast between the sailing ships offshore and the jet planes overhead offered striking evidence of how far man has progressed. But in the minds of some viewers rose the wish that somehow they could go back.

The age of sail gave man the incentive to exploration, both geographical

And that's enough to make an appeal of the most supercharged sincerity resemble ambivalence warmed over.

The teleprompter, of course, is the machine placed down in front of the speaker to roll a few words at a time, in big type, before his eyes at a preordained speed. A speaker can hardly move or turn his head.

That's a wide deviation from the old-time orators who gestured, who even walked up and down on the rostrum for effect. If this sort of straightjacketing is to continue from reliance on microphone and TV camera, then party conventions might conceivably be shortened to two days each — if not to one day.

and scientific, and without it he would not be embarking upon his current adventure into space. It is well, therefore, to be reminded — as these stately vessels do — that the present complex era had simple beginnings.

But if the days of the squarerigger seem uncomplicated to this generation, they probably didn't to those who lived them. And for whatever comfort there may be in the thought, it is not unlikely that in a future age men may long to return to a life as simple as ours in 1964.

Keep the World Moving

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. — After consorting for a couple of weeks with politicians, who, as a rule, outdo the famous rooster Chanticleer in claiming that they make the sun come up, it is a pleasure to get back into the company of people who really do move the world.

Thirty-seven years ago a young flier named Charles A. Lindbergh brought his plane out of California to a Long Island field before taking off for Paris on the first continent-to-continent transoceanic hop. He did it without benefit of the expensive organizations that were backing the other fliers. Here in Santa Barbara his son, Jon M. Lindbergh, carries an unobtrusively in another medium, but to the same end of subduing nature to the needs of men.

Jon Lindbergh and a few venturesome associates are engaged in what seems to be the extremely hazardous business of making deep sea divers for offshore oil drilling companies, telephone companies with underwater cables, and municipalities with oceanic sewage disposal outlets. They work two and three hundred feet down, breathing a mixture of oxygen and helium under heavy pressures, getting some twenty or more minutes of effectiveness on the ocean floor to five or six hours spent in a decompression tank to avoid that ancient disease of divers known as the bends. Diving is an expensive and exacting profession, but Jon Lindbergh makes a routine matter of checking every last safety detail, just as his father did when he was pioneering new air routes all over the world.

What impresses one in talking with Jon Lindbergh is the family tradition of taking great chances while leaving nothing to chance. There are other family traditions involved as well. Poetry manifests itself in the appreciation of Jon Lindbergh's watery world, as when he dispatches a telegram from four hundred feet under the ocean in the Bahamas to his daughter Christine describing the covetings of a fish eating orange peels and a bit of plastic. This is the son of poet Anne Morrow Lindbergh speaking. It is sensitivity married to great daring.

The whole Jon Lindbergh household personifies the traditions of pioneers. Jon's wife Barbara is a Robbins. Jim Robbins, Barbara's father, was an inventor and a builder who did great work all over the West. His specialty was the construction of gigantic boring machines for use in mines and other tunneling operations.

Barbara Lindbergh's childhood was spent in remote places; she remembers such things as making a crash landing at the age of twelve with her father on the sandbar of a cold Alaskan river and being unable to take off. The river water rose, drowning the plane, and father and daughter had to swim to shore. There followed the chancy trek back to civilization down the river, swimming freezing tributaries that flowed into the main stream, and living on sugar cubes that had been forehandedly provided by a pioneer who was careful as Charles Lindbergh himself.

Jim Robbins was lost in an airplane crash on a flight between Colorado and Pudget Sound. His son Dick Robbins found himself the head of a family business with headquarters in Seattle that had depended on the father's reputation for inventiveness. With contracts disappearing all over the lot, Dick Robbins had to sell off the office equipment and reduce the payroll to virtually one stenographer. But the business came back when Dick Robbins made a great success with a boring machine designed for use in Tasmania. Last year Dick Robbins made eleven trips to Europe and four trips around the world in connection with his own family's methods of subduing nature to the needs of men.

The cleaning job, now underway, on the exterior of the 550-foot high Washington Monument in the nation's capital is expected to be finished around Jan. 1. That's a tall order!

The last time the monument was laundered was back in 1934. A lot of soap suds has gone over the dam to clog up sewers since.

Since it's one of the nation's great memorials it's important the monument look neat. It's not just something you can brush off.

We understand there are no plans at present to bring the interior of the monument to the same bright, like-new look the exterior will have. Guess the innards of the famed obelisk will have to remain a sort of dark secret.

THE THIRD vice president of a downtown bank, a notoriously gay blade in his youth, is past seventy now, but girls in his organization still make wide detours to avoid his pinching forays. Last week, however, he barely looked up when a glamorous actress anklebited by.

"Get a load of old EJ.R," marveled a member of the staff. "I'm afraid his eyes are on their last legs."

A wealthy but unprincipled playwright declared himself in on a regular weekly poker session which some of the town's leading theatrical lights have conducted for years. The playwright lost several hundred dollars, then welched on the bet.

Recently his newest play opened on Broadway, and laid a magnificent egg. Just before the final curtain, a rat scampered across the stage. Two members of the poker club jumped up and yelled, "Author! Author!"

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Most noses are not, as Cyrano de Bergerac suggested, "crags or peninsulas".

However small and unobtrusive it may be, the nose has a remarkable faculty for getting into trouble in daily accidents.

Nasal injuries occur with astonishing frequency in children, and even in adolescents and adults.

These injuries are so commonplace that the tendency is to ignore them as being minor and unimportant.

Too often this lack of concern is regretted later when "only a bump on the nose" turns out to be a fracture.

By the time the swelling subsides from the battered nose, the bones may already have reunited. It may then require a difficult surgical procedure to correctly reposition the bones.

When a fracture of the nose is treated immediately, the physician is often able to painlessly and easily manipulate the bones back into position.

The possibility of breathing impairment or misshapen noses can be easily avoided if fractures of the nose are treated within the first 48 hours.

All nasal injuries should be carefully examined and even X-rayed early to prevent the unnecessary and unpleasant aftermaths of neglected fractures.

The indignant grass widow may now be armed with a strong arguing point for keeping her golfer husband off the greens.

A fungicide commonly used on golf courses against turf fungus and as a seed disinfectant was recently found to have caused an allergic skin condition.

The offending substance is thiram, a complex chemical which is also used extensively in a wide variety of products like art gum, adhesives, bathing caps, toys and many other rubbery, elasticized products.

It is most offensive in a fungicidal spray because of its high concentration.

But thiram is so widely used in all industry that it must always be a suspect in seeking the cause of allergic skin eczema (dermatitis).

Contact or allergic dermatitis may respond exceedingly well to cortisone medications. These must, of course, be used only under a doctor's direction.

The unfortunate golf enthusiast who was unwittingly responsible for this important scientific discovery was warned that his troubles might not end at the eighteenth hole. Stopping at the club house for a confronting cocktail might make him even more miserable than the dermatitis, for thiram is very similar in chemical composition to antabuse, which produces temporary but violent sickness when combined with alcohol.

Suggestion Box Loses Appeal

NEW YORK (AP)—Some years ago many business firms started the custom of putting up suggestion boxes.

The thought was that the company would benefit from practical tips from its employees—and that the morale of employees would benefit, too, from the flattering knowledge that management was humbly seeking their help.

"After all, we're a team," the announcement on the bulletin board usually read, "and a team wins with the ideas of all its players."

So the bright new suggestion boxes, born of high hopes, bloomed in thousands of offices throughout the land.

Over the years in many offices a certain realistic cynicism replaced the earlier enthusiastic idealism.

The boxes began to contain fewer and fewer worthwhile suggestions. They became more and more reservoirs of complaints, office gossip, and wasteful remarks.

Many a boss quit opening the suggestion box after discovering the most popular suggestion was, "Why don't you resign, Big Daddy? What this outfit needs is fresh brains at the top."

Today many a company head has washed his hands of the problem of the suggestion box. He often leaves it to be opened by a junior executive in the personnel department.

And that young man, if he bothers to read the missives at all, is likely to find the box contains such familiar material:

Twelve wads of chewing gum left their surreptitiously by the office boy.

Ninety-seven pieces of wadded up carbon paper.

An unsigned note in feminine handwriting: "If you don't stop that smarty in the supply department from pinching me black and blue every time I go there to get some paper clips, I'm going to call the police."

An anonymous note saying, "Why is it we never get anything but blueberry pie in the company cafeteria? Does the boss own a blueberry farm on the side?"

Another anonymous note saying, "Why is it whenever I go to the cafeteria the blueberry pie is always gone? All there is left is chocolate pie, and I'm allergic to chocolate."

"I take this way of telling you—as I've told you 14 times in person," reads a message from the office grouch, "That it has been 13 years since I've had a merit raise. Are they going out of style? I'm tired of doing everybody else's work around here, and getting no credit for it."

The box also contains such oddments as 68 torn executive memos, 37 broken pencil stubs, a few aspirin tablets and a note saying, "Help, help! I'm a slave in a 15th-floor salt mine!"

The truth is that the office suggestion box often is no longer a device to help the firm make more money. It is a safety valve to let off employee steam, a way for them to communicate their groans, gripes and grievances.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—The golden stamp of rising profits is certifying the nation's longest economic upturn of peacetime.

As records fall almost daily, top business firms are testifying to growth in many lines: profits, sales, physical plant, wage scales, dividends.

The big are getting bigger to the joy of their stockholders, the tax collectors, those who may be getting new jobs or longer work weeks, and the economic planners.

Most of the earnings statements report sizable increases over a year ago, and many boast of historic highs. A few industries, some individual companies, prove exceptions.

The steel reports which reach a climax this week are an example. Many of those already on record for the April-June quarter results show slight drops from a year ago, when their business was feverish rather than normal because of orders to hedge against a possible strike. These include: Republic, Armco, Allegheny Ludlum, Jones & Laughlin, Sharon, Colorado Fuel & Iron.

Even in steel some companies are ahead of last year's busy second quarter: Inland, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Acme, Granite City, Cleveland-Cliffs Iron.

The railroads are thoroughly mixed. Many were wallowing in troubles a year ago. Second-quarter gains this year are naturally fantastic by comparison: New York Central Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio. Others ahead this year are Norfolk & Western, Wabash, Delaware & Hudson.

By Sam Dawson

But more roads are showing declines in earnings in the 1964 quarter: Chicago & North Western, Missouri Pacific, Chicago Great Western, Soo Line, Monon, Western Maryland. Three are operating at losses: Milwaukee, North Pacific, Central of New Jersey.

The big oil companies are riding a profit boom. Earnings after taxes were up in the second quarter for Socony Mobil, Texaco, Shell, Indiana Standard, Continental, Tidewater.

The Big Three in autos all set records: General Motors, Ford, Chrysler.

Young Tags 3 Prospects For Veep

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Stephen Young, D-Ohio, thinks one of three men will be President Johnson's running mate in the November election.

Young, while emphasizing that he thinks the president should have a free hand in picking his vice presidential candidate, listed Democratic Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, and Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver as front-runners for the nomination.

Young, speaking at Port Columbus airport en route to a speaking engagement at Yellow Springs, Ohio, also told newsmen he favors Cuyahoga County Democratic Chairman Albert S. Porter for Democratic National Committeeman from Ohio.

The post now is held by State Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman who reportedly will step down from the post.

Young reiterated he expects a tough campaign against Rep. Robert Taft Jr., in the former's bid for re-election. But he said he expects to win and added that President Johnson should carry Ohio by a half-million or more votes.

ERIEAU, Ont. (AP) — Two boaters from New Philadelphia, Ohio, say they will get a compass before they attempt a return crossing on Lake Erie.

Jeff Doyle, 25, and Ron Schaeffer, 18, spent overnight in Ontario after being marooned without food for more than 48 hours on Lake Erie.

Doyle and Schaeffer had planned to head for Point Pelee, near Windsor, when they left Ohio Saturday morning in a 15-foot outboard driven runabout.

But they had no compass with them, and they lost their way when landmarks disappeared.

Their gas supply ran out Saturday afternoon. Their boat survived a two-hour electrical storm Saturday night as it drifted.

The pair sent S.O.S. signals to this community by flashlight Sunday, but the signals were dismissed as a hoax.

The boat came within a mile of land here Monday, and Schaeffer swam to shore for gasoline.

"It was kind of fun the first day but come Sunday morning we lost all of our enthusiasm," Doyle said after their adventure was over.

Lausche Is Opposed To Disclosure Plan
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, voted with the majority Monday as the Senate rejected, 62-25, a proposed rules change which would have required senators and senate employees paid more than $10,000 a year to disclose annually their outside income, their financial holdings, and dealings.

Lausche stood on the losing side, however, as the Senate adopted 48-39 a motion to send back to its rules committee the proposed financial disclosure rule and to report out instead a measure to establish a commission on ethics in the federal government.

Antonick was awarded the scholarship Monday night for taking the runner-up spot in the contest. Rowland W. Kanner, 17, of Northfield, Ohio, won a $1,000 styling scholarship.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—From the way President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater have been talking, you can get the impression the presidential campaign is going to be on a high plane, more or less. But this may not last long since neither man can predict or control the future.

Goldwater himself, in the midst of saying he would not make any personal attacks on Johnson and would campaign solely on the issues, told a news conference: "Oh, I think you'll find some brickbats flying around all over the place."

And Johnson is apparently prepared for anything that happens, while so far being bland about it all, for he told a news conference: "Most campaigns are rough campaigns and I'm an old campaigner. I've been at it 30 years."

This gives him more than twice the campaign experience of Goldwater because he was in Congress more than twice as long.

He never batted an eye—in public, that is—to Goldwater's charge that he is a "faker" and a "phony" and seemed to be trying to brush aside any thought he might retaliate in kind.

He said his 30 years of campaigning: "One of the first things I learned—at least, as far as I'm concerned—the people are not much interested in my personal opinion of my opponent."

"The American people will make their judgments on the very statements that he may make from time to time."

There are plenty of other Democrats around to fling brickbats if Johnson won't, although it remains to be seen if he won't, particularly if Goldwater flings them.

And if Goldwater won't, his running mate for the vice presidency, Rep. William E. Miller of New York, probably will since Miller has been described as a gut fighter, a "wiry rooster" with "nothing namby-pamby about him."

It can't be forgotten that Goldwater said one of the main issues in the campaign is the "scandal hanging over the White House." Somebody, if not Goldwater, is going to have to talk about it, since he called it an issue.

If a guess had to be made, this seems the likely one: this is going to be rougher than any campaign in memory if only because the intensity of feeling among Americans themselves seems so deep.

There was hardly deep feeling among voters over the 1960 race between Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon. They weren't so far apart in their views. It was a personality contest.

It marks the most clear-cut division—which is what Goldwater said he wanted to provide anyway—between American conservatives and those of more liberal views and between those who are against big government and those who consider it a necessity in the middle of the 20th Century.

The lines have already hardened on both sides and if anyone doubts it all he has to do is talk to a dozen people and listen to the intensity of their feelings.

There was no such intensity before or even during the two campaigns between Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson.

In addition to this all the unpredictable—like the turn of events at home and abroad, particularly if they're violent—could make this whole campaign boil.

DEAR ABBY: I am at my wits' end as to how to handle my mother. I am 50 years old and her only child. When she comes to visit me, which is all the time, she never lets me out of her sight. I can't go to pick up a loaf of bread without her wanting to go with me. If I tell her I will be gone only a few minutes, she pouts and sulks like a spoiled child. I have never talked up to her. The local pair tied at the end of 18 holes in the Jaycee sponsored event at the Pickaway Country Club last week with identical scores of 77, but a sudden death playoff was won by Smith.

Phil Alkire, a Washington C. H. High School golf star, is second in the event with a 74.

BOB RANSOM, a member of the local Jaycee junior golf committee, traveled to Youngstown with Smith and Fuhrman.

He noted that both boys played the course without a practice and without having walked over the area. He felt that both would card better scores in today's competition.

Pro Basketball Chiefs Open Talks

CINCINNATI (AP) — Owners of the nine National Basketball Association teams were meeting today on a number of topics, including possible expansion of the league.

NBA Commissioner J. Walter Kennedy said Pittsburgh, Kansas City, Chicago, Cleveland, Houston, Dallas and San Diego are among cities which have expressed interest in having an NBA team.

Kennedy said he didn't know if any action would be taken today. "Any expansion discussion would relate to the 1965-66 season or later, and not to the coming season," he said.

but there are few more loyal or solemn rooters than his Reds in their daily battle for the National League pennant.

The third-place Reds flew to Milwaukee in charge of coach Dick Sisler Monday after Hutchinson entered Cincinnati's Christ Hospital for "tests" expected to take several days.

The Reds were reluctant to talk about their manager's illness as they opened a three-game series with an 11-2 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. Typical comment included: "Sure hope he's back soon ... Hate to hear it ... That's too bad. He's a great guy as well as a great manager."

Sisler said that the 44-year-old Hutchinson complained of back pains and decided to check into the hospital several hours after a Sunday doubleheader with Pittsburgh.

At Cincinnati, club president Bill DeWitt said: "We've no idea how long he'll be in (the hospital). It'll take two or three days to see what the situation is."

league pitcher, was stricken with cancer in the upper chest several months ago. The illness was disclosed when he checked into the tumor institute in Swedish Hospital at Seattle, Wash., last January.

After a series of treatments, which appeared to be successful, Hutch was permitted to join the Reds for the start of spring training in Florida. He said at the time he had been advised to take things easier than usual.

His admittance to the hospital in Cincinnati marked the third time that he has left the club. He took time off for a one-day visit to Swedish Hospital shortly after the start of the season. He went to the same hospital again for one day in June and the only announcement was that no further treatment was required at the time.

Curfew Hampers Baseball League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rain, wet grounds and power failure are the usual causes for postponement of baseball games. It isn't often one is put off by a race riot.

But it happened to Jacksonville and Rochester Monday night. The Suns and Red Wings were caught by Rochester's dusk-to-dawn curfew imposed by City Manager Porter W. Homer. The city has been rocked by racial riots since Friday.

Unless the curfew is lifted, to night's game likely will be postponed.

In the International League games that were played, Syracuse beat Atlanta 5-3 and Richmond edged Toronto 3-2 in 10 innings. Buffalo and Columbus were not scheduled.

Warren C. Giles, National League president, has been connected with the major leagues since 1937 when he went to Cincinnati from Rochester, N. Y.

Alvis Proves He's Ready To Play Again

CLEVELAND (AP) — Things looked bleak for Max Alvis back on June 26, when he contracted spinal meningitis.

Now, the Cleveland Indians plan to put him on active duty in "two or three days."

The decision was made Monday night after Alvis played five innings of the Indians' exhibition game with Pittsburgh, Cleveland won, 8-3. His first-inning double scored two of the five runs that came across in the inning. Normally a third baseman, Alvis played both third and short in the exhibition.

"My legs got pretty weak and wobbly, but otherwise I felt good," said Alvis, who hadn't been in competitive action since getting the disease.

Even though he won't be activated until the end of the week, Alvis will accompany the Indians when they fly to Washington for a three-game series starting tonight.

"We have permission from the league to let Max work out with us before our games," said Tribe general manager Gabe Paul. "But we're going to give him a few more days to get his legs stronger."

"This is something we won't rush into. We want him to be 100 per cent before bringing him back."

Clay, Liston Scheduled For Rematch Next Fall

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Minus the ballyhoo that usually attends such functions, heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay has signed for a rematch this fall with Sonny Liston—the man he dethroned last February.

Although the site and date have not been decided, the 22-year-old champ modestly predicts: "I'm going to make this the greatest fight in history. I have a great many surprises for the next fight—surprises in my prediction, on my strategy and on some trainers I'm bringing in."

The Louisville Lip, who earned a reputation for a flare for publicity before he won the title Feb. 25 at Miami, Fla., shunned the usual signing promotion. It was hush-hush from the time he signed the contract until the agreement papers were taken to Philadelphia, where Liston signed Monday night.

Bill Faversham, Clay's manager, said the target date for the fight is Monday, Sept. 28, but that the boxers have agreed only to a meeting sometime between Sept. 15 and Oct. 31.

Clay said he would like to fight in Louisville, but that Las Vegas and Baltimore also are in the running.

Clay, a bit hefty at 226 pounds, flew to Louisville from his Miami training site for the signing. He said he may do some of his training in Egypt or Ghana—among the places he visited during a recent world tour.

A member of the Black Muslim sect, Clay signed the contract: "Muhammad Ali, AKA (Also Known As) Cassius M. Clay Jr."

The contract calls for both fighters to get 30 per cent of the gross receipts. Clay received 22½ per cent and Liston 37½ per cent in the February match.

The fight will be put on by Intercontinental Promotions, Inc., which promoted the first match between the two. Liston had stock in Intercontinental but said he has disposed of it.

It will be Liston's first return to the ring since he lost the title by failing to answer the bell for the start of the seventh round in Miami. Liston knocked out Floyd Patterson in one round for the title and then repeated his first-round victory over Patterson in the first defense.

Bankers Win 7-6 Contest

The Savings Bank ended Babe Ruth minor league play with a 7-6 win over Kochheiser Hardware and sewed up second place in the league.

The Bankers finished play with a 9-6 record. The Hardwaremen are 4-11 for the year.

Roy Sark was the winning Savings Bank pitcher, limiting Kochheiser to four hits. Tom Sawyer and Dan Pritchard paced the winners at the plate, each getting a double.

Jeff Steele tried to win the game single - handedly, firing a six hitter on the mound and lashing a homerun and a triple at the plate.

Cassady Brothers In Golf Open

Tom and Larry Cassady, Pickaway Country Club Pros, are seven strokes behind leader Tom Weiskopf in the 36-hole District Open Golf Tournament at Winding Hollow.

After 18 holes of play, Larry reported a 38-37-75 and Tom came in with a 36-39-75. Weiskopf put together rounds of 34-34 for a 68.

The final 18 holes will be played today. Larry will start the final round at 12:10, while Tom is slated to start at 12:40.

Elorde, Kosaka Set for Rematch

TOKYO (AP)—Flash Elorde, the world junior lightweight champion from the Philippines, and Teruo Kosaka of Japan will be rematched for another title bout in December.

The Japan Boxing Commission said today that the two fighters, whose bout Monday ended in a near riot, will fight again "for the sake of Japan-Philippine friendship."

Elorde, who calls Japan his second home, retained the title Monday via an unpopular 12th-round technical knockout over Kosaka that touched off the near-riot.

The commission said the new bout, to which the managers of both fighters had agreed, would be held in Manila, Tokyo or Los Angeles.

Defenseman Jacques Laperriere, 21, of the Montreal Canadiens was the top National Hockey League rookie last season.

Elks, Bingmans Win LL Tilts

BPO Elks captured the final round of Little League baseball last night when they downed Ralston Purina, 7-5. Bingman Drugs topped Coca-Cola, 19-18.

The Elks finished the last round with a 5-0 mark, and ended season play with a 13-2 record. They were involved in the title of every round, winning the first and third out-right and tying for the second with Bingman Drugs.

Purina had its finest showing in the last round, winning two games and losing three. The team finished 4-11 for the year.

Ty Ankrom started for the winning Elksmen and won the game. He allowed five runs on four hits enroute to the six innings pitched.

BRYCE BROWN paced the Elks at the plate. He bombed a double in one official turn and scored a run.

Andy Blanton took the loss as the Ralston Purina pitcher. He limited the Elksmen to five hits, but gave up seven runs to lose the game.

Jerry Schlichter paced the Millers, collecting a double and a single in four trips.

In the Bingman - Coke game, the winning Bingman team compiled a 2-3 record in the final round of play and an 8-7 overall mark. Coke ended play with an 0-5 last round mark and 4-11 overall count.

Bingmans had to put up a last inning rally to win. As the visiting team, they scored three runs in the first frame, one in the second, eight in the fourth, two in the fifth and five in the sixth.

Coke applied the pressure with three in the first inning, four in the second, five in the fourth, four in the fifth and two in the final canto to fall one run short.

HANSEL YORK started for Bingmans on the mound. He was relieved by Marion Long, who in turn was aided by winning hurler Paul Tassler.

The trio walked two men, while York and Long each fanned a batter and Tassler whiffed four men. Together they allowed 15 hits.

Dick Radcliff paced the winners with a homerun, double and single. Gregg White lashed a round-tripper, Bill Barthelmas hit a triple and Rickey Jacobs collected a double.

Randy Martin started for the losing nine on the mound. He was followed by Dick Speakman, Chris Mackenzie and Mark Lutz. Lutz suffered the loss.

The quartet walked seven batters. Martin fanned six and Speakman whiffed two. The four hurlers allowed 11 hits.

Dick Walters paced the Coke team at the plate, hitting two homeruns and a double. Mackenzie poked a homerun and three singles, Gary Spangler hit a triple and Lutz added a double.

K of C Swamps Prairie Lanes In 39-0 Tilt

Knights Cop Second Place in Mosquito Loop with 12-2 Mark

The Knights of Columbus capped their season in the Mosquito League last night by swamping Prairie Lanes, 39-0.

The winners completed the loop with a second place showing of 12 wins and two losses. Both defeats were at the hands of unbeaten Circleville Lumber.

Five Prairie Lanes hurlers issued a total of 30 walks in the game, shortened to four innings by the two-hour Mosquito time limit. The hurlers were touched for 13 hits.

Alan Hawks paced the winning team at the plate. He scored six runs, blasted three homeruns, including two in the third inning with the bases loaded, and unloaded a double and a single for a perfect night.

GREG HOSKINS belted a pair of solo four-baggers and added a single. Larry McFarland cracked a round trip blow in the first with two men on base and collected a single.

Brian Barthelmas had a pair of singles and Reggie Radcliff rounded out the 13-hit attack with a single.

Dana Carley, the winning hurler, gave up only two hits, walked one and whiffed six in his route going performance.

Steve Brungs collected a triple and Bob York hit a single for the two lone hits for Prairie Lanes.

Marvin Payne manager of the Knights of Columbus nine, said R. N. Phillips was named to the Mosquito League All-Star team but could not play because of a recent tonsillectomy. Dana Carley was named as Phillips' alternate.

LEIST & KELLAR GARAGE

but there are few more loyal, or solemn, rooters than his Reds in their daily battle for the National League pennant.

The third-place Reds flew to Milwaukee in charge of coach Dick Sisler Monday after Hutchin-son entered Cincinnati's Christ Hospital for "tests" expected to take several days.

The Reds were reluctant to talk about their manager's illness as they opened a three-game series with an 11-2 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. Typical comment included: "Sure hope he's back soon ... Hate to hear it ... That's too bad. He's a great guy as well as a great manager."

Sisler said that the 44-year-old Hutchinson complained of back pains and decided to check into the hospital several hours after a Sunday doubleheader with Pittsburgh.

At Cincinnati, club president Bill DeWitt said, "We've no idea how long he'll be in (the hospi-tal). It'll take two or three days to see what the situation is."

Hutchinson, a former major league pitcher, was stricken with cancer in the upper chest several months ago. The illness was disclosed when he checked into the tumor institute in Swed-ish Hospital at Seattle, Wash., last January.

After a series of treatments, which appeared to be success-ful, Hutch was permitted to join the Reds for the start of spring training in Florida. He said at the time he had been advised to take things easier than usual.

His admittance to the hospital in Cincinnati marked the third time that he has left the club. He took time off for a one-day visit to Swedish Hospital shortly after the start of the season. He went to the same hospital again for one day in June and the only announcement was that no further treatment was required at the time.

Curfew Hampers Baseball League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain, wet grounds and power failure are the usual causes for postponement of baseball games. It isn't often one is put off by a race riot.

But it happened to Jackson-ville and Rochester Monday night. The Suns and Red Wings were caught by Rochester's dusk-to-dawn curfew imposed by City Manager Porter W. Homer. The city has been rocked by racial riots since Fri-day.

Unless the curfew is lifted, to night's game likely will be postponed.

In the International League games that were played, Syracuse beat Atlanta 5-3 and Rich-mond edged Toronto 3-2 in 10 in-nings. Buffalo and Columbus were not scheduled.

Pro Golf Is No Longer Dominated by a Few

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Professional golfer's Big Three, which Jack Nicklaus a year ago threatened to convert into a Big Me, suddenly has developed into a Big We.

It's no longer just a trio at the top of the rich and rugged fairway game—it's a crowd.

The four major pro championships of 1964 now have been decided and of the so-called Big Three—Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player—only Palmer, the Masters winner, came away with one of the choice plums.

Nicklaus, although the season's leading money collector, went 0-for-4 and failed to qualify for the $100,000 World Series of Golf, which he had won two years in a row. Player never seriously threatened in any of the four big championships.

New forces are making themselves felt in bigtime golf. New faces—one of them, at least, an old face re-emerging from the shadows of obscurity—have moved in to challenge Nicklaus, Palmer and Player.

One of them is the lean, serious face of Ken Venturi, 33, who slew the ghosts of past failures and frustrations in winning the U.S. Open last month in Washington's stifling heat.

Another is the puckish face of Champagne Tony Lema, 30, conqueror of cranky, old St. Andrews in his first try in the British Open and the most colorful figure the sport has produced since Walter Hagen.

A third is the fresh, baby face of Bobby Nichols, 28, who performed golfing miracles for four days in leading the PGA Championship through every round. He captured the imagination of the nation by the way he stood off the constant pressure of Palmer and Nicklaus.

As winners of major championships, Venturi, Lema and Nichols qualify to oppose Palmer.

Little Leaguer Is Playing Despite Loss of His Leg

TIPTON, Okla. (AP)—Less than a year ago a heartbroken 13-year-old Little Leaguer sobbed, but vowed he would walk again someday.

It was Sept. 10, 1963, and Stanley Manning had just been told his right leg had been amputated at the knee. Stanley—or Bub, as he is called, "tried to hold back his tears," but the thought he might never again play baseball was too much for him.

His leg was severed when he was struck by a car while riding his bicycle in Tipton.

Months passed for him in a hospital at nearby Lawton, but he never lost his desire to wear a baseball uniform again.

Less than a month ago Bub's hopes were realized. Doctors said he would have to be careful, but he could try out for the team. His coach, Don Royal, the brother of Texas University football Coach Darrell Royal, told Bub to put on a uniform and try pitching.

His first game was against the small town of Cache in southwestern Oklahoma. Royal told Bub to throw a few and when game time came he was signaled to the mound.

Bub's teammates, most of whom are orphans from a home near here, knew the importance of a win for the crippled youngster.

Tipton won 15-4, and Bub pitched all the way.

The youngster is back at his old position now, catcher, and isn't doing badly. "I can get down okay. But I'm not near as fast as I was," he says.

"I'm just happy Coach Royal is letting me play. I know I'm not as good as I was, but I'm sure not going to give up."

And he probably won't. Doctors were amazed at his progress while he was in the hospital.

And one nurse said, "When he was first moved to our floor we would go in to see him and our hearts would nearly break. We knew he was in severe pain, but he would always manage a smile. After a while we quit feeling sorry for him and started sending youngsters down to visit our smiling boy."

An Associated Press story told of Bub's misfortunes and mail began pouring in from throughout the nation. At least one person from every state managed a letter and baseball players opened their hearts to him.

Bub's idol, New York Yankee star Mickey Mantle who also is a native Oklahoman, was the first baseball player to write. "Hang in there, and stay tough," Mantle said.

Next month Bub and his family will take their annual vacation to Kansas City to see the Yankees play.

Bub knows he won't be a professional baseball player when he grows up; he's given up that dream. He does talk about a sports career.

"I think I might be a coach," he says. "The would be one good way to help someone who had the same bad luck I had. It will take the rest of my life to pay back the favors people have done for me."

Views on TV-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A wise Frenchman once noted that the more a thing changes, "the more it is the same thing." It is doubly true of television programs.

Five years ago this reporter made her first trip to the film capital for a pre-season inspection of the fall programs.

There were many, many more Westerns on the schedules. Gene Barry, now one of television's top cops, was the fancy-vested, cane-carrying Bat Masterson; Richard Boone, the heroic Paladin; Hugh O'Brian, Wyatt Earp—shows that gave every promise of going on forever.

"Maverick," a sprightly spoof of the Western was a big hit, and "Gunsmoke" had struck audience gold. "Bonanza" however, then was fighting a losing Nielsen-rating battle with "Perry Mason" on Saturday nights.

The private eyes and the gentlemen adventurers were all over the networks: "Peter Gunn", with Craig Stevens playing television's first truly custom-tailored, sophisticated sleuth.

Craig Stevens will be back in a couple of months, playing an adventure-prone, custom-tailored, sophisticated press agent in CBS' "Mr. Broadway," a change without real change.

The Western, five years ago, was undisputed king of television, but the situation comedy was the vigorous crown prince. There was "Angel," a short-lived reverse switch on "I Love Lucy," "The Ann Southern Show," "The Tab Hunter Show," "The Tom Ewell Show," "Pete and Gladys," and "Dennis the Menace."

Some, like "Bachelor Father," "The Real McCoys" and "Dobie Gillis," stayed around for several years before expiring of general debility. Others, like "The Donna Reed Show" and "Ozzie and Harriet," are still very much with us. Lucy's show, minus the two husbands and under a new title, is around and people love Lucy as much as ever.

Two-thirds of the programs of five years ago have gone into television's Valhalla—the rerun circuit. Survivors are the strong ones—Red Skelton, Lawrence Welk, Ed Sullivan, Bob Hope, the best of the panel shows.

Looking backward it now appears that the 1960 television season was hardly one of the industry's memorable vintage years. But except for a switch of emphasis and titles, it really doesn't seem to be much different from the menu offered now for September's feast of new programs.

Ballymoss, Panassliper Chamier and Thirteen of Diamonds, all winners of the Irish Derby, have competed in the Washington D. C. International at Laurel.

Browns Jell Their Offense

Little Competition Seen by Starters

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns' offensive unit is working into shape with all positions pretty well set and little competition for starting jobs.

And, as far as guard John Wooten is concerned, this is a good situation. A professional football player shouldn't have the fear hanging over his head that someone else may take his job, said Wooten.

"This competition is different from the kind you might have in the business world," he added. "I admit that as a rookie I worried about making the team."

"Since that time, I've just tried to do my best whether it's in practice or in the game. Look how players help each other. Ed Modzelewski was the full-back when Jim Brown came up. Jim told me the tips and advice from Mo were very important."

Wooten and Gene Hickerson are almost certain choices at guard now that Ted Connolly has retired, but Wooten showed no joy over Connolly's departure.

"I was glad when we got Ted Connolly last year and sorry when I heard he'd retired," he said. "It helps the team to have someone like Connolly on the squad."

The offensive lineup that will face the San Francisco 49ers Aug. 9 in the first exhibition on the west coast probably will include center John Morrow, with Wooten and Hickerson as the guards and tackles Dick Schafrath and John Brown.

In the backfield will be quarterback Frank Ryan, with full-back Jim Brown and halfback Ernie Green.

LL Major Playoff Tilt Scheduled

BPO Elks and Bingman Drug of the Little League majors will meet 5:15 p. m. Thursday on the Ted Lewis Little League Diamond to determine the winner of the second round.

The Elks and Bingmans ended the round with identical 4-1 records. Bob Wellington, supervisor of the youth baseball program, announced there will be no playoff if the Elk unit wins the game.

He pointed out that the Elks won both the first and third round titles. Should Bingmans win, a playoff will be scheduled.

Terry Drops His Role of Cousin in AL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Suddenly they can't score against Ralph Terry.

Just a few weeks ago, they—the New York Yankees' opposition—couldn't keep from scoring, particularly in crucial situations.

Terry, a right-handed veteran, came through a personally crucial situation Monday night like Perry Mason sails through court cases.

Making his first start since June 10 when he last won, Terry pitched his first shutout of the season as the Yankees stopped the Los Angeles Angels 3-0 and increased their American League lead to one game.

Cincinnati bombed Milwaukee 11-2 in the National League in the only other game played.

Terry, now 3-8, shut out the Angels on seven hits, not letting a runner get past second base. The performance sent his earned run average to 5.18, the first time it's been under 6.00 since mid-May.

Terry received all of the support he needed from Elston Howard and Roger Maris. Howard doubled home Tom Tresh and Joe Pepitone, who had singled, in the second. Maris clouted his 15th homer in the third.

Fred Newman suffered his fourth setback against eight victories, giving up five hits in seven innings.

Jim Maloney pitched and helped the Reds to their victory under Coach Dick Sisler. Sisler took over for Manager Fred Hutchinson, who remained in Cincinnati for further hospital tests. Hutchinson is suffering from chest cancer.

Maloney scattered six hits, picking up his 10th triumph in 19 decisions. He singled in the first run of a five-run fifth inning and batted in another run with an eighth-inning sacrifice fly. He also singled in the fifth.

Dennis Menke homered for the Braves while Deron Johnson and Marty Keough connected for Cincinnati, Keough's blast coming with one on.

Maloney's Six-Hitter Helps Reds

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds pounded Milwaukee for 16 hits and rode Jim Maloney's six-hitter for an 11-2 victory over the Braves Monday night.

The Reds had all kinds of hits: Doubles by Tony Perez (his first major league hit), John Edwards, Deron Johnson, Chico Ruiz and Leo Cardenas, and a triple by Steve Boros. In addition, Johnson clouted his 12th homer and Marty Keough hit his seventh.

Even Maloney collected two hits and drove in two runs. Everyone got a hit except Tom Harper and Vada Pinson, who batted once for Harper.

Maloney became the Reds' second 10-game winner. He has lost nine. He struck out seven and walked three. One of the hits off him was Dennis Menke's 11th home run in the eighth inning.

The Reds wrapped up the game in the seventh inning with five runs that chased starter and loser Denny LeMaster (10-7) from the mound.

Cincinnati scored in the seventh on singles by Edwards, Boros and Maloney, a double by Ruiz, a sacrifice fly by Harper and a single by Frank Robinson. Nine players batted.

The Reds scored two runs each in the second, eighth and ninth innings.

TIPTON, Okla. (AP)—Less than a year ago a heartbroken 13-year-old Little Leaguer sobbed, but vowed he would walk again someday.

It was Sept. 10, 1963, and Stanley Manning had just been told his right leg had been amputated at the knee. Stanley—or Bub, as he is called, "tried to hold back his tears," but the thought he might never again play baseball was too much for him.

His leg was severed when he was struck by a car while riding his bicycle in Tipton.

Months passed for him in a hospital at nearby Lawton, but he never lost his desire to wear a baseball uniform again.

Less than a month ago Bub's

hopes were realized. Doctors said he would have to be careful, but he could try out for the team. His coach, Don Royal, the brother of Texas University football Coach Darrell Royal, told Bub to put on a uniform and try pitching.

His first game was against the small town of Cache in southwestern Oklahoma. Royal told Bub to throw a few and when game time came he was signaled to the mound.

Bub's teammates, most of whom are orphans from a home near here, knew the importance of a win for the crippled youngster.

Tipton won 15-4, and Bub pitched all the way.

The youngster is back at his old position now, catcher, and isn't doing badly. "I can get down okay. But I'm not near as fast as I was," he says.

"I'm just happy Coach Royal is letting me play. I know I'm not as good as I was, but I'm sure not going to give up."

And he probably won't. Doctors were amazed at his progress while he was in the hospital.

One nurse said, "When he was first moved to our floor we would go in to see him and our hearts would nearly break. We knew he was in severe pain, but he would always manage a smile. After a while we quit feeling sorry for him and started sending youngsters down to visit our smiling boy."

An Associated Press story told of Bub's misfortunes and mail began pouring in from throughout the nation. At least one person from every state managed a letter and baseball players opened their hearts to him.

Bub's idol, New York Yankee star Mickey Mantle who also is a native Oklahoman, was the first baseball player to write. "Hang in there, and stay tough," Mantle said.

Next month Bub and his family will take their annual vacation to Kansas City to see the Yankees play.

Bub knows he won't be a professional baseball player when he grows up; he's given up that dream. He does talk about a sports career.

"I think I might be a coach," he says. "The would be a good way to help someone who had the same bad luck I had. It will take the rest of my life to pay back the favors people have done for me."

Terry Drops His Role of Cousin in AL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Suddenly they can't score against Ralph Terry.

Just a few weeks ago, they—the New York Yankees' opposition—couldn't keep from scoring, particularly in crucial situations.

Terry, a right-handed veteran, came through a personally crucial situation Monday night like Perry Mason sails through court cases.

Making his first start since June 10 when he last won, Terry pitched his first shutout of the season as the Yankees stopped the Los Angeles Angels 3-0 and increased their American League lead to one game.

Cincinnati bombed Milwaukee 11-2 in the National League in the only other game played.

Terry, now 3-8, shut out the Angels on seven hits, not letting a runner get past second base.

The performance sent his earned run average to 5.18, the first time it's been under 6.00 since mid-May.

Terry received all of the support he needed from Elston Howard and Roger Maris. Howard doubled home Tom Tresh and Joe Pepitone, who had singled, in the second, Maris clouted his 15th homer in the third.

Fred Newman suffered his fourth setback against eight victories, giving up five hits in seven innings.

Jim Maloney pitched and helped the Reds to their victory under Coach Dick Sisler. Sisler took over for Manager Fred Hutchinson, who remained in Cincinnati for further hospital tests. Hutchinson is suffering from chest cancer.

Maloney scattered six hits, picking up his 10th triumph in 19 decisions. He singled in the first run of a five-run fifth inning and batted in another run with an eighth-inning sacrifice fly. He also singled in the fifth.

Dennis Menke homered for the Braves while Deron Johnson and Marty Keough connected for Cincinnati. Keough's blast coming with one on.

Maloney's Six-Hitter Helps Reds

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds pounded Milwaukee for 16 hits and rode Jim Maloney's six-hitter for an 11-2 victory over the Braves Monday night.

The Reds had all kinds of hits: Doubles by Tony Perez (his first major league hit), John Edwards, Deron Johnson, Chico Ruiz and Leo Cardenas, and a triple by Steve Boros. In addition, Johnson clouted his 12th homer and Marty Keough hit his seventh.

Even Maloney collected two hits and drove in two runs. Everyone got a hit except Tom Harper and Vada Pinson, who batted once for Harper.

Maloney became the Reds' second 10-game winner. He has lost nine. He struck out seven and walked three. One of the hits off him was Dennis Menke's 11th home run in the eighth inning.

The Reds wrapped up the game in the seventh inning with five runs that chased starter and loser Denny LeMaster (10-7) from the mound.

Cincinnati scored in the seventh on singles by Edwards, Boros and Maloney, a double by Ruiz, a sacrifice fly by Harper and a single by Frank Robinson. Nine players batted.

The Reds scored two runs each in the second, eighth and ninth innings.

North Carolina's eight football wingbacks are all from the home state.

Browns Jell Their Offense

Little Competition Seen by Starters

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns' offensive unit is working into shape with all positions pretty well set and little competition for starting jobs.

And, as far as guard John Wooten is concerned, this is a good situation. A professional football player shouldn't have the fear hanging over his head that someone else may take his job, said Wooten.

"This competition is different from the kind you might have in the business world," he added. "I admit that as a rookie I worried about making the team."

"Since that time, I've just tried to do my best whether it's in practice or in the game. Look how players help each other. Ed Modzelewski was the full-back when Jim Brown came up. Jim told me the tips and advice from Mo were very important."

Wooten and Gene Hickerson are almost certain choices at guard now that Ted Connolly has retired, but Wooten showed no joy over Connolly's departure.

"I was glad when we got Ted Connolly last year and sorry when I heard he'd retired," he said. "It helps the team to have someone like Connolly on the squad."

The offensive lineup that will face the San Francisco 49ers Aug. 9 in the first exhibition on the west coast probably will include center John Morrow, with Wooten and Hickerson as the guards and tackles Dick Schafrath and John Brown.

In the backfield will be quarterback Frank Ryan, with full-back Jim Brown and halfback Ernie Green.

LL Major Playoff Tilt Scheduled

BPO Elks and Bingman Drug of the Little League majors will meet 5:15 p. m. Thursday on the Ted Lewis Little League Diamond to determine the winner of the second round.

The Elks and Bingmans ended the round with identical 4-1 records. Bob Wellington, supervisor of the youth baseball program, announced there will be no playoff if the Elks unit wins the game.

He pointed out that the Elks won both the first and third round titles. Should Bingmans win, a playoff will be scheduled.

American League umpires Larry Napp and Lou Di Muro are Brooklyn natives.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A wise Frenchman once noted that the more a thing changes, "the more it is the same thing." It is doubly true of television programs.

Five years ago this reporter made her first trip to the film capital for a pre-season inspection of the fall programs.

There were many, many more Westerns on the schedules. Gene Barry, now one of television's top cops, was the fancy-vested, cane-carrying Bat Masterson; Richard Boone, the heroic Paladin; Hugh O'Brian, Wyatt Earp—shows that gave every promise of going on forever.

"Maverick," a sprightly spoof of the Western was a big hit, and "Gunsmoke" had struck audience gold. "Bonanza" however, then was fighting a losing Nielsen-rating battle with "Perry Mason" on Saturday nights.

The private eyes and the gentlemen adventurers were all over the networks: "Peter Gunn," with Craig Stevens playing television's first truly custom-tailored, sophisticated sleuth.

Craig Stevens will be back in a couple of months, playing an adventure-prone, custom-tailored, sophisticated press agent in CBS' "Mr. Broadway," a change without real change.

The Western, five years ago, was undisputed king of television, but the situation comedy was the vigorous crown prince. There was "Angel," a short-lived reverse switch on "I Love Lucy," "The Ann Southern Show," "The Tab Hunter Show," "The Tom Ewell Show," "Pete and Gladys," and "Dennis the Menace."

Some, like "Bachelor Father," "The Real McCoys" and "Dobie Gillis," stayed around for several years before expiring of general debility. Others, like "The Donna Reed Show" and "Ozzie and Harriet," are still very much with us. Lucy's show, minus the two husbands and under a new title, is around and people love Lucy as much as ever.

Two-thirds of the programs of five years ago have gone into television's Valhalla—the re-run circuit. Survivors are the strong ones—Red Skelton, Lawrence Welk, Ed Sullivan, Bob Hope, the best of the panel shows.

Looking backward it now appears that the 1960 television season was hardly one of the industry's memorable vintage years. But except for a switch of emphasis and titles, it really doesn't seem to be much different from the menu offered now for September's feast of new programs.

Ballymoss, Panasslipper Chamier and Thirteen of Diamonds, all winners of the Irish Derby, have competed in the Washington D. C. International at Laurel.

Legal Hitch Halts Opening Of School

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Legal entanglements have delayed the opening of the Mahoning Valley Vocational School for school dropouts, draft rejects, and other disadvantaged young men.

The school was to have opened today but the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation notified an estimated 640 enrollees Monday that the opening had been postponed indefinitely.

A spokesman for the bureau said the legal questions are centered around the authority of a city school district—Niles, in this case—to operate a vocational school for the state.

The attorney general's office was asked earlier to look into the matter but that request was withdrawn.

John M. McElroy, an aide to the governor, said the reason the request was withdrawn was that an opinion could jeopardize a similar vocational school which already is operating in Jackson, Ohio.

Everyone involved "needs a chance to think, to put the elements together in this thing," McElroy said.

Stock Mart Still Lagging

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued a slow retreat as trading dragged early this afternoon.

Although there was some steadying among recent losers, the general market picture was drab and unexciting.

Wall Streeters saw the list as going through another of its periods of slackness which usually follow a strong upsurge.

The trend was lower among rails, farm implements, motors, rubbers, utilities, airlines and chemicals.

Steels were irregular, along with retails and rubbers.

The business news was encouraging, including word of a boom in machine-tool orders, a leading indicator of industrial expansion plans.

But stock analysts felt the market was shaking down to a base from which a future rally might be mounted.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .7 at 318.1 with industrials off .9, rails off .4 and utilities off .3.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 3.46 to 837.59.

Anatomy of a Riot: It Is Keyed By Rumor, Is Colored Blood Red

By BERNARD GAVZER

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Helen Myricks was pleased with the way things were turning out. There was $60 collected for the playground from the sale of barbecue sandwiches, hot dogs and punch. Now the last record was spinning and the street dance would end. The people, seemed to be enjoying themselves.

Then someone came to Gene Stevens, whose wife, Carrie, was one of the dance organizers with Mrs. Myricks, and said, "Some boy over there is causing a fuss."

Stevens had been keeping an eye on things. This was just a last minute kind of dance for the people on the block. Friday nights had been too full of hell raising in the Negro section as it was. It was wise to keep an eye open. Stevens told the boy to quiet down. So did some others. He wouldn't. So Stevens went to the Myricks' porch where two white patrolmen, Anthony Cerretto and Roger Bacon were standing.

"We walked up to this guy," says Cerretto, "and we didn't even get a chance to ask him to leave. He started yelling and resisting and swinging. The next thing, we were all on the ground, Bacon and me and the guy. We put the cuffs on him."

"But this crowd that was dancing and enjoying itself turned on us. They yelled for us to take off the cuffs and let the guy go. They wedged between us. Two plainclothesmen who were at the end of Nassau Street on Joseph Avenue came from their car to help us. They were Dan Funk and Sal Arnone. Then everything let loose. Either Dan or Sal, I don't know which, got back and radioed for help."

It was 11:38 p.m., Friday, July 25, 1964, the minute, the hour, the day, the date, the year that thriving, comfortable Rochester learned how a riot is born.

But there is no time for history in the birth of a riot. The communication system of a riot is rumor. Rumor moves faster than any electronic device. It jumps rivers and walls and buildings. It has a music: sirens. It has a color: red, for the blood on men's hands.

That call for help put through by Funk or Arnone brought cars with sirens and lights.

The riot that had just been born mushroomed grotesquely. Rocks and stones and old brick from a large empty lot on Joseph Avenue near Nassau Street greeted the squads. Men and boys and women and girls jeered and swore at police. Wire trash baskets sailed from the crowd to land on the officers.

Several K-9 Corps teams arrived.

The mob reached a new fury. Broken bottles littered the street and 50 police faced perhaps 500 persons. All of the action was centered at the intersection of Joseph Avenue and Nassau Street. The riot was 27 minutes old.

The looting began.

Two hours passed. Time enough for the word to have spread like a typhus. A crowd of whites blossomed between the New York Central station and the U.S. Post Office. On one side of the street were the whites; Negroes on the other. Fire trucks arrived. So did police from Brighton and Greece. The hoses stiffened with the pressure of water and the threat of a race riot was crushed.

The dawn brought a scene of senseless, wanton destruction. What end did this serve? This is the question.

But a riot needs no end except to be what it is. And Negroes trying to explain it to themselves as well as others came to the same conclusion: that frustration and bitterness are reason for violence.

Anyone who tried to impose reason quickly learned this.

After two nights, there scarcely was a street in any of the Negro areas that did not show

Lockbourne's Lush Spending Is Under Fire

WASHINGTON (AP)—Recreational facilities at Lockbourne Air Force Base near Columbus, Ohio, are among those said by the General Accounting Office to have been built without Congressional approval.

The GAO said Monday that the Lockbourne facilities—a golf course, golf club house, and riding stables—were built in 1959-60 with $272,000 which had been earmarked by Congress for airport runway construction.

The GAO demanded that the Air Force discipline the individuals responsible for the method used to finance the projects. The Lockbourne projects were on a list that also included similar projects at other air force bases.

The Air Force said "some of the problems disclosed by the audit report appear to have resulted primarily from unintended interpretations of directives and regulations in effect at the time the work was accomplished."

It said it is revising its construction directives and believes this will solve the problem.

Twinsburg Is Lauded By Ohio Governor

Twinsburg, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes, here to help break ground for two new plants, praised this Summit County community for bringing in new industry.

"Twinsburg residents and officials are their own best friends. They are not waiting for someone else to attract industry. They are seeking it themselves," Rhodes declared at a luncheon following ground breaking ceremonies for the first plants in two industrial areas in Twinsburg. The plans are for the Universal Ohio Corp. and Loopeco Industries.

sears of violence.

On Sunday afternoon, there came a spectacle so sickening that it was felt that this might sober men and bring sense to them. A helicopter used to observe riot areas hit a Negro dwelling, plunged to the sidewalk, exploded and set the building a fire. The pilot was killed and so were two persons in the house.

But Sunday night brought no respite.

The riot finally did come to its tired end, spent by the energy of its own fury, and the plain fact that there was nothing to win, either at the beginning or the end.

A spokesman for the bureau said the legal questions are centered around the authority of a city school district — Niles, in this case—to operate a vocational school for the state.

The attorney general's office was asked earlier to look into the matter but that request was withdrawn.

John M. McElroy, an aide to the governor, said the reason the request was withdrawn was that an opinion could jeopardize a similar vocational school which already is operating in Jackson, Ohio.

Everyone involved "needs a chance to think, to put the elements together in this thing," McElroy said.

Stock Mart Still Lagging

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued a slow retreat as trading dragged early this afternoon.

Although there was some steadying among recent losers, the general market picture was drab and unexciting.

Wall Streeters saw the list as going through another of its periods of slackness which usually follow a strong upsurge.

The trend was lower among rails, farm implements, motors, rubbers, utilities, airlines and chemicals.

Steels were irregular, along with retails and rubbers.

The business news was encouraging, including word of a boom in machine-tool orders, a leading indicator of industrial expansion plans.

But stock analysts felt the market was shaking down to a base from which a future rally might be mounted.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .7 at 318.1 with industrials off .9, rails off .4 and utilities off .3.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 3.46 to 837.59.

Anatomy of a Riot: It Is Keyed By Rumor, Is Colored Blood Red

By BERNARD GAVZER

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Helen Myricks was pleased with the way things were turning out. There was $60 collected for the playground from the sale of barbecue sandwiches, hot dogs and punch. Now the last record was spinning and the street dance would end. The people, seemed to be enjoying themselves.

Then someone came to Gene Stevens, whose wife, Carrie, was one of the dance organizers with Mrs. Myricks, and said, "Some boy over there is causing a fuss."

Stevens had been keeping an eye on things. This was just a last minute kind of dance for the people on the block. Friday nights had been too full of hell raising in the Negro section as it was. It was wise to keep an eye open. Stevens told the boy to quiet down. So did some others. He wouldn't. So Stevens went to the Myricks' porch where two white patrolmen, Anthony Cerretto and Roger Bacon were standing.

"We walked up to this guy," says Cerretto, "and we didn't even get a chance to ask him to leave. He started yelling and resisting and swinging. The next thing, we were all on the ground, Bacon and me and the guy. We put the cuffs on him."

"But this crowd that was dancing and enjoying itself turned on us. They yelled for us to take off the cuffs and let the guy go. They wedged between us. Two plainclothesmen who were at the end of Nassau Street on Joseph Avenue came from their car to help us. They were Dan Funk and Sal Arnone. Then everything let loose. Either Dan or Sal, I don't know which, got back and radioed for help."

It was 11:38 p.m., Friday, July 25, 1964, the minute, the hour, the day, the date, the year that thriving, comfortable Rochester learned how a riot is born.

But there is no time for history in the birth of a riot. The communication system of a riot is rumor. Rumor moves faster than any electronic device. It jumps rivers and walls and buildings. It has a music: sirens. It has a color: red, for the blood on men's hands.

That call for help put through by Funk or Arnone brought cars with sirens and lights.

The riot that had just been born mushroomed grotesquely.

Rocks and stones and old brick from a large empty lot on Joseph Avenue near Nassau Street greeted the squads. Men and boys and women and girls jeered and swore at police. Wire trash baskets sailed from the crowd to land on the officers.

Several K-9 Corps teams arrived.

The mob reached a new fury. Broken bottles littered the street and 50 police faced perhaps 500 persons. All of the action was centered at the intersection of Joseph Avenue and Nassau Street. The riot was 27 minutes old.

The looting began.

Two hours passed. Time enough for the word to have spread like a typhus. A crowd of whites blossomed between the New York Central station and the U.S. Post Office. On one side of the street were the whites; Negroes on the other. Fire trucks arrived. So did police from Brighton and Greece. The hoses stiffened with the pressure of water and the threat of a race riot was crushed.

The dawn brought a scene of senseless, wanton destruction. What end did this serve? This is the question.

But a riot needs no end except to be what it is. And Negroes trying to explain it to themselves as well as others came to the same conclusion: that frustration and bitterness are reason for violence.

Anyone who tried to impose reason quickly learned this.

After two nights, there scarcely was a street in any of the Negro areas that did not show scars of violence.

On Sunday afternoon, there came a spectacle so sickening that it was felt that this might sober men and bring sense to them. A helicopter used to observe riot areas hit a Negro dwelling, plunged to the sidewalk, exploded and set the building a fire. The pilot was killed and so were two persons in the house.

But Sunday night brought no respite.

The riot finally did come to its tired end, spent by the energy of its own fury, and the plain fact that there was nothing to win, either at the beginning or the end.

K of C Softballers Nip Chillicothe

Circleville's Hannan Council 5297 Knights of Columbus topped Chillicothe K of C council in a softball game Sunday at Chillicothe by an 8-6 count.

The local team led all the way out hitting Chillicothe 19-17. Leading the scoring with two runs each were Shea and Cavanaugh, followed by Ebbrecht, McConnell, Rich and Holt each with one run. Circleville held a substantial lead until the seventh inning when the host team scored four runs.

The Hannan Council team will play Lancaster Council at 3 p.m. Aug. 9 at Ted Lewis Park. A return match with Chillicothe is scheduled for Aug. 16 in the local park.

Twinsburg Is Lauded By Ohio Governor

TWINSBURG, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes, here to help break ground for two new plants, praised this Summit County community for bringing in new industry.

"Twinsburg residents and officials are their own best friends. They are not waiting for someone else to attract industry. They are seeking it themselves," Rhodes declared at a luncheon following ground breaking ceremonies for the first plants in two industrial areas in Twinsburg. The plans are for the Universal Ohio Corp. and Loopco Industries.

Second Pay Hike in Year For GIs Gets Panel's OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee unanimously approved a bill today providing $207 million in pay raises for all members of the armed services except enlisted men with less than two years of service. It would be the second military pay raise in a year.

The exclusion of new enlisted men from the raise stirred the only controversy in the committee. Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., and others demanded that these men be included.

Schweiker, who said these men were living in poverty, proposed an amendment to give them a pay boost, too, but the committee killed it on a 21-9 vote.

The committee's unanimous action in approving the whole bill virtually guaranteed most servicemen a pay raise by Sept. 1.

The bill is identical to one passed recently by the Senate, and Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, plans to bring it up on the floor next week.

The pay raise would reach servicemen on the first day of the month after the day that the President signs the bill. So, if President Johnson signs the bill in August, the fatter pay checks start coming Sept. 1.

This also would mean that most servicemen would receive their second pay increase in less than a year. Congress passed a $1.2-billion pay raise last year. It began Oct. 1.

The present bill would provide these increases:

1. A 2.5 per cent increase for all officers and enlisted men with more than two years of service.
2. An 8.5 per cent increase for all officers with less than two years of service.

Harlem Angered as King Talks with Gotham Chief

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. conferred with Mayor Robert F. Wagner today about New York's racial situation, and Harlem leaders expressed anger that King did not consult them first.

King said after the 3-hour meeting, which ended at 2 a.m., that he would meet with "summit leaders" in the riot-torn sections of New York City.

"Matters of national importance" were discussed by King and Wagner, said one of the mayor's aides.

Before leaving Atlanta Monday night, King had urged Negroes in New York to halt violence and lawlessness, warning that they could set back the civil rights movement.

He also said he might make peace tours in Rochester, N.Y., this weekend.

Rochester had its first riot since Friday, when rioting and looting broke out, but a state of emergency and a curfew still were in effect.

New York City policemen testified Monday in a State Supreme Court hearing that William Epton, a Negro and self-described Communist, told a secret Harlem meeting last week that "the state must be smashed," and "we're going to have to kill cops and judges."

Justice Gerald P. Culin continued a restraining order against demonstrations by Epton's group, the Harlem Defense Council.

Harlem community leaders met Monday night to form a "unity council."

L. Joseph Overton, a leader of the Harlem Labor Council, was acting chairman of the unity conference. He said the leaders of 69 political, religious, business and civic organizations in Harlem agreed on a list of issues, including two demands:

—The suspension of white police Lt. Thomas Gilligan, whose fatal shooting of a Negro boy touched off the bloody rioting. Gilligan said he fired in self-defense.

— "The immediate appointment by the mayor of a representative independent civilian complaint review board, with subpoena power," to deal primarily with charges of police brutality.
